DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-4, 17, 21, 23, 24, 28 and 29 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Burns.

There is disclosed in Burns a magnetic device, comprising: two semi-cylindrical halves 14, 16, each having a fastening end and a grasping end; a spring mechanism 18 connecting the halves; a plurality of magnets 40 arranged in the semi-cylindrical halves; a cushioning layer 24, 26 on an inner surface; and two tabs formed on each of the halves, the tabs being formed by semi-circular cut-outs formed in the halves.

In regards to the use of the device to magnetically treat beverages (claim 1) and to be fastened to a neck of a bottle (claim 17), such use is intended only and provides no structural limitations.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 18-20, 22 and 25 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Burns.

The arrangement of the magnets into three columns is not shown in Burns. Burns discloses a single column of magnets. It would have been obvious to one skilled in the art to form three columns of magnets, since it has been held that mere duplication of the essential working parts of a device involves only routine skill in the art.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 5-16, 26 and 27 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed October 12, 2004 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant argues that Burns fails to disclose a semi-cylindrical half having a grasping end for opening and closing the device. Burns as discussed in the rejection above discloses a grasping end of a semi-cylindrical half. The actual function of opening and closing the device is subject to user preference. If the user so chooses to opening the device by the grasping end of the semi-cylindrical half, such a function can be achieved.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
